Dear Conference Attendees:

On behalf of the California Coalition Against Sexual Assault (CALCASA), I would like to personally welcome you to the 2015 National Sexual Assault Conference! We are thrilled to have nearly 1,500 participants from across the country and the U.S. territories of Guam, Puerto Rico, Saipan, American Samoa, Virgin Islands, and Northern Mariana Islands. Participants come from rape crisis centers, public health departments, coalitions, prevention programs, criminal justice agencies, business and the military. Conference attendees are survivors, advocates, activists, students, allies, visionaries, and change-makers.

This year’s theme “Inspired by Progress, United by Purpose” invites us to reflect upon our movement’s accomplishments over the past 40 years, recognize improvements, as well as areas for continued focus, and challenges us to identify ways to unite around a shared purpose. The issue of sexual assault has more visibility than ever before. This is the moment that we’ve worked for tirelessly, garnering attention, interest and commitment from the White House, Congress, sports associations, institutions, the media and general public. We find ourselves in a unique moment, celebrating our progress, while embracing new partners.

There are more than 100 workshops this year including: Tracks – Campus Communities; Intervention and Advocacy; Law and Policy; Leadership Development; and Prevention; and Mini-Tracks – Building a Movement to End Violence Against Women and Girls; Preventing Child Sexual Abuse; Addressing and Preventing Sexual Violence in the Military; Rape in Detention; Serving Men Who Experienced Sexual Abuse; LGBTQ Sexual Assault: Prevention, Intervention, and Organizational Change; Partnering to Improve Sex Offender Management; and Sexual Assault & Domestic Violence: Working Together for a Common Mission.

The next three days will provide opportunities to increase our knowledge base, create new partnerships and strengthen existing relationships. I encourage you to engage in discussions about how we continue to work together to shift norms, create change and map our course for the next 40 years!

Sincerely,

Sandra Henriquez, MBA
Executive Director
September 2, 2015

Dear Friends,

On behalf of the City of Los Angeles, welcome to California Coalition Against Sexual Assault’s 2015 National Sexual Assault Conference.

As an attendee of the nation’s premier conference on the topic of sexual assault, you are helping strengthen sexual violence services, prevention, and education. Your work also helps promote wellness and healing for survivors of sexual assault. Thank you for doing your part to increase people’s understanding of the issues related to sexual violence and taking a stand on this important issue. Your advocacy helps makes our community stronger.

I send my best wishes for a memorable conference and continued success.

Sincerely,

ERIC GARCETTI
Mayor

California Coalition Against Sexual Assault
1215 K Street, Suite 1850
Sacramento, CA 95814

Dear Ms. Henriquez:

The California Governor’s Office of Emergency Services (Cal OES) is pleased to support the 2015 National Sexual Assault Conference. Each year, far too many Californians are victims of sexual violence and the impact to these individual, their families, and our communities is substantial.

Cal OES is proud to partner with the California Coalition Against Sexual Assault (CALCASA) to provide training and technical assistance to our Rape Crisis, Campus Sexual Assault, and California Advancing Prison Rape Elimination Act Programs. CALCASA’s expertise, and this collaboration, improves the local response to victims of sexual violence and supports healing.

Under CALCASA’s leadership, I am confident this conference will be successful and provide a unique opportunity to train, unite, and inspire the many professionals who work tirelessly to end sexual violence.

Sincerely,

MARK S. GHILARDUCCI
Director
2015 NATIONAL SEXUAL ASSAULT CONFERENCE

DAY 1: TWO TIME GRAMMY AWARD WINNING MARIACHI DIVAS

The Mariachi Divas de Cindy Shea are a multicultural all-female ensemble infused with the true flavor of the Los Angeles ethnic melting pot which gave birth to their unique sound in 1999. Their excellence was initially recognized by the Disneyland Resort where they have been performing, entertaining worldwide audiences of all ages on a daily year-round basis, since 2003.

The Divas, founded by Trumpet player Cindy Shea, have continued to lead the way in the mariachi genre. Their achievements are unmatched. Their eleven albums, released through Shea Records and East Side Records, have among other achievements, earned a total of six Grammy nominations and two Latin GRAMMY awards. www.mariachidivas.com

DAY 1: MARIACHI LINDAS MEXICANAS

Mariachi Lindas Mexicanas is a Five Piece All Female Traditional Mariachi Based in Los Angeles, California. It was born in 2006 with the only purpose of enhancing the power and capability of women in the Mariachi World. They have overcome the machismo of fellow mariachis by demonstrating women could play mariachi music with passion and dignity. Its members are Mexican-american ladies who are students, mothers, housewives, but more than anything WE ARE WOMEN. Lindas Mexicanas’ vision is to inspire the new Latin American generations, especially the Mexicans who grew up here in the United States to preserve the Mexican culture and traditions. www.mariachilindasmexicanas.com

DAY 2: KHANNIA OK, PERFORMER CAMBODIAN DANCE

“Neang Neak” is the second stage (rejection) in Neak Kru Sophiline’s work, Seasons of Migration. It is about a Naga who stumbles to her own realization that she is not like others and then pursues to try and assimilate and tear off her own tail (rejecting her identity). The piece is about rejection and accepting oneself and loving oneself. About an identity crisis; the realization of it, the actions of self hate, and then ends with the comforting act of self-love and self-respect.

Adjourn
Valerie B. Jarrett
Senior Advisor to President Barack Obama;
Chair, White House Council on Women and Girls

Valerie B. Jarrett is a Senior Advisor to President Barack Obama, overseeing the White House Offices of Public Engagement and Intergovernmental Affairs, and chairing the White House Council on Women and Girls.

Ms. Jarrett has worked throughout her tenure at the White House to mobilize elected officials, business and community leaders, and diverse groups of advocates behind efforts to strengthen and improve access to the middle class, to boost American businesses and our economy, and to champion equality and opportunity for all Americans. From ongoing campaigns to end sexual assault, raise the minimum wage, advocate workplace policies that empower working families, and promote entrepreneurship and early childhood education, Ms. Jarrett has helped the President develop a broad coalition of partners to execute a robust agenda.

Ms. Jarrett came to the White House with a background in both the public and private sectors, having served as the Chief Executive Officer of The Habitat Company in Chicago, Chairman of the Chicago Transit Board, Commissioner of Planning and Development, and Deputy Chief of Staff for Chicago Mayor Richard M. Daley.

She also served as Co-Chair of the Obama-Biden Presidential Transition Team, and the director of corporate and not-for-profit boards including Chairman of the Board of the Chicago Stock Exchange, Chairman of the University of Chicago Medical Center Board of Trustees, and Director of the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago.

Jarrett received her B.A. from Stanford University in 1978 and her J.D. from the University of Michigan Law School in 1981.
Beckie Masaki
Co-Director, Asian Pacific Institute on Gender-Based Violence

Beckie Masaki, MSW, is a Co-Director of the Asian Pacific Institute on Gender-Based Violence (formerly the API Institute on Domestic Violence). Beckie co-founded one of the first VAW programs in the nation that could meet the language and cultural needs of Asian survivors of domestic violence and trafficking, Asian Women’s Shelter (AWS) in San Francisco, and served as the founding Executive Director for over twenty-one years. Beckie has extensive experience in providing multilingual, multicultural services to domestic violence and trafficking survivors and their children, innovative program development, prevention, community building, policy-making, and institutional advocacy. She currently serves as faculty and advisor in collaboration with CompassPoint Non Profit Services/ Blue Shield Against Violence Strong Field Project, Futures Without Violence, Praxis International, and the National Judicial Institute on Domestic Violence. She is on the advisory committee for the NoVo Foundation in shaping a VAW movement building initiative. She has received numerous awards in recognition of her work including the 2010 Flame of Justice Award, Chinese for Affirmative Action; 2009 Roselyn C. Swig Award, Domestic Violence Consortium/ Partners Ending Domestic Abuse; 2009 Extraordinary Woman Award, Flyaway Productions; 2005 Sister of Fire Award, Women of Color Resource Center; 1999 Next Millennium Award for Community Organizing; and 1998 California Peace Prize from The California Wellness Foundation.

Gloria Sandoval
Chief Executive Officer, STAND! For Families Free of Violence

Ms. Gloria Sandoval has more than 30 years experience in nonprofit management. She has been the Chief Executive Officer of STAND! for Families Free of Violence since May, 1997 and prior to her tenure with STAND!, she was the Executive Director of the Shanti Project in San Francisco for four years. Between 1979 and 1993, Ms. Sandoval served as the Executive Director of the Rape Crisis Center of Contra Costa and Marin Counties. Ms. Sandoval also has extensive experience in the field of organizational development and has conducted local, statewide, and national trainings in the areas of administration, personnel management, conflict resolution, diversity, and strategic planning. Jackson Katz, Ph.D.
Co-Founder, Mentors in Violence Prevention

Dr. Jackson Katz is internationally recognized for his groundbreaking work in gender violence prevention education in schools, the sports culture and the military, as well as his pioneering work in critical media literacy. An educator, author, filmmaker, and social theorist, Katz is co-founder of the multiracial, mixed-gender Mentors in Violence Prevention (MVP) program at Northeastern University’s Center for the Study of Sport in Society. MVP was one of the first programs to use a “bystander” model for gender violence prevention; Katz is one of the key architects of the bystander approach. Today, MVP is the most widely utilized sexual and domestic violence prevention program in college and professional athletics. Katz’s educational video Tough Guise, his appearances in the films Wrestling With Manhood and Spin The Bottle, his authorship of “The Macho Paradox: Why Some Men Hurt Women and How All Men Can Help”, and his lectures in the U.S. and around the world have brought his insights into masculinity and gender violence to millions of college and high school students as well as professionals in education, human services, public health and law enforcement. Katz holds academic degrees from the University of Massachusetts-Amherst and Harvard University, and a Ph.D. in cultural studies and education from UCLA. www.jacksonkatz.com

Anita Raj, Ph.D., is Director of UCSD’s Center on Gender Equity and Health and is a Professor in the Division of Global Public Health, Department of Medicine. Dr. Raj is a developmental psychologist with approximately 20 years of experience conducting research on sexual and reproductive health/HIV/STI, gender-based violence, substance misuse and abuse, and the intersection of these issues. Her current research is based in South Asia, the United States and Russia. This work includes qualitative and quantitative research to support intervention development and implementation, as well as efficacy and effectiveness trials to evaluate behavioral interventions. She has served as Principal Investigator or Co-Investigator on more than 30 grants from various federal funding agencies including NIH [NIMH, NICHD, NIDA, NIAAA], CDC, SAMHSA, and the Office of Minority Health, as well as foundations including the Lucile and David Packard Foundation and Kaiser Foundation. She has authored or co-authored 100+ peer-reviewed publications from these studies. In addition to this research, Dr. Raj has for the past 20 years been involved with various community based organizations working for immigrant rights and against gender-based violence against immigrant health vulnerabilities. Currently, Dr. Raj has projects related to adolescent girls’ early marriage and reproductive/maternal health, HIV prevention and test and treat interventions, sexual violence and intimate partner violence prevention programs, and immigrant and refugee health.
Mónica Ramírez
Founder, Justice for Migrant Women

Mónica Ramírez has been a farmworker and immigrant rights activist for nearly two decades. In 2003, she founded the first state-based legal project aimed at combating gender discrimination against migrant farmworker women who were employed in agriculture in Florida. In 2006, she joined Southern Poverty Law Center where she founded the first national legal project to end workplace sexual violence and other forms of gender discrimination against migrant farmworker and other low-wage immigrant women. From August 2012 to June 2014 she served as the Deputy Director for Centro de los Derechos del Migrante, Inc., where she provided vision and leadership on CDM’s migrant women’s work. Upon graduation from the Harvard Kennedy School, she served as a Women and Public Policy Program Fellow at the National Hispanic Leadership Agenda where she created a project focused on leadership and civic engagement among rural Latinas. Mónica recently founded Justice for Migrant Women, a national legal project aimed at eradicating economic and sexual exploitation against migrant women workers. Mónica received her Juris Doctorate from The Ohio State University’s Moritz College of Law and her Masters in Public Administration from Harvard University’s John F. Kennedy School of Government.

Be The Solution: How to Turn Sexual Assault Awareness Month into Year Round Prevention
TRACK: PREVENTION | BEAUDRY B
Join staff from the Washington Coalition of Sexual Assault Programs to learn how to brand statewide awareness campaigns with a call to action and incorporate interactive prevention tools. Participants will practice using fun and innovative games with kids and teens that utilize health promotion and protective factors, to support healthy development and community norms free from sexual violence. Through group activities, participants will learn how to create and implement these prevention methods into their respective communities.
Erin McCready, Training Specialist, Washington Coalition of Sexual Assault Programs (WCSAP)
Kat Monusky, Prevention Program Coordinator, Washington Coalition of Sexual Assault Programs (WCSAP)

Applying Social Norms Theory to the Prevention of Gender Based Violence in Middle Schools: Theory, Research and Practice
TRACK: PREVENTION | SANTA ANITA C
The current presentation provides an overview of social norms theory as it relates to sexual violence prevention, as well as strategies for integrating social norms theory into existing intervention approaches. Two sexual violence prevention programs grounded in social norms and bystander intervention theory will be reviewed.
Lindsay Orchowski, Assistant Professor (Research), Department of Psychiatry and Human Behavior, Alpert Medical School of Brown University
Sandra Malone, Coordinator of Prevention Education, Day One of Rhode Island
Deborah Pearlman, Assistant Professor (Research), Brown University

Coaching to a Winning Prevention Season: Strategies for Developing and Delivering a Universal Coach Education Program on Campus
TRACK: PREVENTION & CAMPUS COMMUNITIES | SAN FERNANDO
In addition to the presentation that will provide an overview of the program developed and delivered at U-M, participants will also engage in a number of activities to help them consider whether a coach training program is needed on their campus. Participants will be provided with a partnership readiness index to help them assess what next steps may be required in order to begin implementation of a universal coaching program on their campus. Participants will also be given a "winning plays" hand-out that encourages participants to consider what their learning outcomes for their program will consist of, and what kinds of activities and content components may be helpful to include in their campus-specific training to help meet those learning outcomes.
Holly Rider-Milkovich, Director, Sexual Assault Prevention and Awareness Center, University of Michigan
Laura Blake Jones, Dean of Students, University of Michigan

The Weight We Choose to Carry: Towards a More Inclusive Approach to Campus Rape
TRACK: CAMPUS COMMUNITIES | SANTA ANITA A
This session will explore current discussions on campus rape. We will discuss the ways in which the focus on mostly white, heterosexual, cisgendered, middle class survivors confronting university policies makes already marginalized survivors more invisible and more vulnerable to both interpersonal and institutional violence. We will work with the audience to explore ways how campus based activists can take a more intersectional and holistic approach to demanding accountability and justice for all.
Rachel Caidor, Assistant Director UIC Campus Advocacy Network, University of Illinois at Chicago
Vickie Sides, Director of Resources for Sexual Violence Prevention, The University of Chicago
One Small Step for You, One Giant Leap for Survivors: Implementing Trauma Informed Care in All Spaces

TRACK: INTERVENTION & ADVOCACY | SAN GABRIEL B

In a world where social services are not always able to meet the needs of survivor’s, you as brave service providers (advocates, medical providers, law enforcement, prosecutors, and others) will embark on a journey to explore the unknown of Trauma Informed Service Provision. Choosing to accept this mission means having the opportunity to learn easy and cost effective ways to anticipate survivor needs in a variety of settings across the lifespan and proactively respond to them.

Amanda Immel, Training Specialist, National Sexual Violence Resource Center

Survivor Privacy: Everything You Always Wanted to Know But Had No One to Ask

TRACK: INTERVENTION & ADVOCACY | SANTA BARBARA A

Protecting and respecting victim privacy is a core value for virtually every victim service provider. Survivors have a broad range of needs, however, and often seek services from a variety of different providers in the community. At the same time, every agency and organization that encounters a survivor typically provides referrals to other community resources. For this reason, it is critical that providers be familiar with not only their own privacy rules and protocols, but also those of (a) the agencies to whom they are referring survivors AND (b) how different providers privacy rules and regulations interact with one another. This workshop will bring together experts from a variety of different disciplines and areas of expertise, including sexual assault, domestic violence and stalking experts knowledgeable about victims’ privacy rights in Indian Country and in the medical, civil legal, and prosecution contexts.

Jessica Mindlin, National Director of Training and TA, Victim Rights Law Center

Meliah Schultzman, Staff Attorney, Victim Rights Law Center

Hallie Bongar White, Executive Director, Southwest Center for Law and Policy Project Director, International Association of Forensic Nurses

Investigating and Prosecuting Alcohol-Facilitated Sexual Assault

TRACK: LAW AND POLICY | SANTA BARBARA B

Alcohol is the weapon most commonly used by sex offenders. It renders victims vulnerable, affects memory, and impairs judgment. Its unique toxicological effects, widespread use, and ease of consumption render it the ideal substance to facilitate sexual assault. However, some of the same factors that make alcohol such a perfect weapon also present unique challenges for investigators, prosecutors, and other allied professionals in alcohol-facilitated sexual assault cases.

Varsha N., JD, Training and Technical Assistance Coordinator, CALCASA

The Intersection of Sex Trafficking, HIV and Sexual Violence in Latino and Communities of Color

TRACK: INTERVENTION & ADVOCACY | PALO VERDES

The workshop will look at the intersection of sex trafficking, sexual violence, HIV and poverty in communities of color. The workshop will present results from an Assessment Study conducted by ELAWC aimed to better define the causes and consequences of sex trafficking, with particular attention to HIV risks and other health related issues among women and girls and potential strategies for reducing health risks and exiting the life.

Barbara Kappos, Executive Director, East Los Angeles Women’s Center
Stephanie Mesones-Alvarado, Director of Development, East Los Angeles Women’s Center Anonymous

Best Practices in Hotline Crisis Work with Men and Boys Who Have Experienced Sexual Abuse and Assault

TRACK: SERVING MEN WHO EXPERIENCED ABUSE | SAN GABRIEL A

The Rape, Abuse and Incest National Network will facilitate a workshop focused on how to effectively provide support and services to male survivors of sexual assault. This workshop will engage participants to review and discuss examples of best practices in service delivery; to include but not limited to, training paid and unpaid staff, marketing services, recruiting male staff, and educating your crisis response community about the diverse needs of male survivors.

Candice Lopez, NSAH Director, Rape, Abuse and Incest National Network (RAINN)
Hanging Out and Hooking Up: Sex Ed Curricula for LGBTQ Communities

TRACK: LGBTQ SEXUAL ASSAULT | SANTA BARBARA C

Most sex ed curricula do not allow LGBTQ people to have the opportunity to openly discuss sex, dating, and hooking up. AVP offers this reality-based workshop to equip LGBTQ communities, especially youth, with safety strategies for hanging out and hooking up. This workshop will demonstrate how to utilize this curriculum that focuses on safer dating through exercises and discussion, and that help to develop awareness of participants own needs, wants, and boundaries, as well as those of potential partners.

Why Policies for Prevention? And Why Now?

TRACK: PREVENTING CHILD SEXUAL ABUSE | BEAUDRY A

Whether you work with child sexual abuse or sexual violence, there’s information in this session you can use. The workshop answers why policy, why now by introducing the new “Six Pillars of Prevention.” Pillars evolved from the concept that no one policy will make the change we need in the world. It includes the rationale to focus on these six policy areas and concrete ways to use this to strengthen your policy work and advance prevention in your community.

How Do We Get Better at Talking About Prevention? Findings and Implications from an Analysis of Sexual Violence in the News

TRACK: PREVENTION | BEAUDRY B

Sexual violence appears in the news nearly every day – but do solutions? How can victim representatives, practitioners, and other spokespeople shift the media conversation to focus on preventing sexual violence? Join Berkeley Media Studies Group for the release of its report on how sexual violence is framed in news coverage. BMSG will discuss the implications of these findings and explore strategies for creating news about prevention and improving the coverage of sexual violence overall.

Core Concepts for Child Sexual Abuse Prevention

TRACK: PREVENTION | SANTA ANITA C

A collaboration between the Wisconsin Coalition Against Sexual Assault and local and state-level agencies has led to the development of 10 Core Concepts for the prevention of victimization and perpetration across childhood and adolescence. Concepts are based in best practices of child sexual abuse prevention and supplementary, promising research. Recommendations for implementation are provided by age level for youth, as well as for parents and schools/youth-serving agencies. In this session we will review the concepts, research, and recommendations for implementation.

Achieving Clarity and Protecting Privacy When Survivors Seek Crisis Services on Campus

TRACK: CAMPUS COMMUNITIES | SANTA ANITA A

A survivor’s ability to control personal information is key to recovery. Yet, there is great uncertainty about how and with whom information will be shared by campus-based counseling and advocacy services. This session will 1) teach you the type of privacy protections potentially available, 2) prepare you to spark conversations on campus about how survivor information will be protected or shared, and 3) inspire you to equip survivors with accurate descriptions of the protections, exceptions, and alternative options.

Alicia Aiken, Executive Director, Confidentiality Institute
Remembering our Roots, Questioning Our Path: Exploring the Benefits and Unintended Consequences of Trauma Informed Interventions

TRACK: INTERVENTION & ADVOCACY | BEAUDRY A

Advocates, criminal legal system practitioners, and others who work with survivors of rape, battering, trafficking, and other forms of violence against women are increasingly utilizing trauma informed frameworks to guide their interactions. The benefits of such an approach have been widely described and promoted; the drawbacks—actual and potential—have not. Neither have there been adequate discussions on the differences between trauma informed intervention and traditional grassroots advocacy in working with survivors of violence. This session of critical conversation will explore the impact of the growing popularity of trauma informed intervention, assess its unintended consequences in survivors’ lives, and evaluate the benefits it brings to advocacy.

Shamita Das Dasgupta, Researcher, Consultant, Manavi
Diane Docis, Training and Program Specialist, Praxis International
Additional Advocacy Learning Center participants in attendance at the conference are invited to participate in the roundtable discussion.

Human Trafficking: The Collaborative Approach to Practicing the Victim-Centered Model

TRACK: INTERVENTION & ADVOCACY | SAN GABRIEL B

This workshop is designed to be an in-depth look at the successful approach to address sex trafficking with the Orange County Human Trafficking Task Force. Founded in 2004 to identify and provide comprehensive services to victims of all forms of human trafficking, the Task Force was created as a “virtual” organizational structure holding multiple agencies and fields together aligned with a common purpose: combat human trafficking. This workshop will feature the major partners as they share how to effectively work together to achieve agency goals, while staying committed to the victim-centered approach. The Anaheim Police Department, Community Service Programs, and the Orange County District Attorney’s Office will take participants through evidence-based modules to understand what it means to put into practice new approaches to sex trafficking crimes. The workshop will feature current trends and laws, victims and perpetrators of “the game”, and solutions identified, including the victim service evaluation tool.

Lita Mercado, Program Director, Community Service Programs
Juan Reveles, Sergeant, Anaheim Police Department
Daniel Varon, Deputy District Attorney, Orange County District Attorney’s Office

Inside the Armed Services: Sexual Assault Response and Prevention as a National Priority (Part 2)

Innovative Approaches to Engaging New Partners to Support Asian Pacific Immigrant and Refugee Survivors of Sexual Assault

TRACK: INTERVENTION & ADVOCACY | PALO VERDES

The Center for the Pacific Asian Family (CPAF) in Los Angeles has been providing culturally-responsive, survivor-centered advocacy to Asian and Pacific Islander immigrant and monolingual survivors of domestic violence and sexual assault since 1978. Notwithstanding, CPAF recognizes that there are still significant gaps in their ability to fully engage with particular segments of the API community, particularly the more recently arrived immigrant and refugee groups such as the Cambodian, Lao, Vietnamese and Thai communities that are smaller and multiply marginalized. In addition to language and cultural barriers, these groups disproportionately struggle with trauma and poverty due to under-education, under-employment, discrimination and criminalization. In order to close these gaps, CPAF energetically committed to community-engaged learning, investing in long-term meaningful partnerships, and an orientation of genuine support and service. This workshop details the approach taken up by CPAF to more effectively engage underserved Asian Pacific Islander immigrant and refugee communities through thoughtfully cultivated partnerships with emerging community-led grassroots organizations, investing in their capacity to respond to survivors of sexual assault in those communities, and experimenting with creative strategies for outreach and sexual assault service provision that take into account complex cultural nuances. The presentation will highlight emerging successes, as well as challenges, lessons learned, and shifts in program strategy, including an intentional focus on systems advocacy to address child sexual abuse.

Detained, Undocumented, and Underserved: Providing Services to Adults and Children in Immigration Detention

TRACK: RAPE IN DETENTION | SANTA BARBARA A

Immigration detainees are extremely vulnerable to sexual abuse. Thankfully, the government agencies that hold immigration detainees have finalized Prison Rape Elimination (PREA) standards that require access to outside confidential support services for survivors. This panel will give an overview of the problem of sexual abuse in immigration detention, and offer guidance on helping this population.

Manteniéndonos fuertes y de pie en la lucha; Creando una red de apoyo de asesoras bilingües / Staying Strong and Still Standing in the struggle; Creating a Network of support of Bilingual Advocates (Español)

TRACK: INTERVENTION & ADVOCACY | SANTA BARBARA C

Ser bilingüe en el movimiento contra el abuso sexual es un privilegio que crea esperanza y conecta a l@s sobrevivientes con los servicios. Como hay un limitado número de consejeras bilingües en áreas rurales, muchas consejeras se encuentran físicamente y emocionalmente exhaustas y con opciones limitadas para mantenerse saludables. Exploraremos opciones que ayuden a crear una red de apoyo y prácticas saludables y accesibles para mantenernos de pie en la lucha.

TRACK: PARTNERING TO IMPROVE SEX OFFENDER MANAGEMENT | SAN FERNANDO

Mental health professionals, and child protective services professionals are commonly asked to assess the risk a sex offender poses to a particular child or children and under what circumstances, if any, the offender might safely be allowed contact with the child or children. This workshop will review a Structured Professional Judgment (SPJ) approach for conducting these types of risk of harm assessments. The Risk of Sexual Abuse of Children-30 checklist (ROSAC-30) is composed of 30 items that are empirically or theoretically linked to risk of sexual harm to children. Items are scored on a 3-point scale. Checklist items are grouped into three categories, namely considerations concerning the (1) offender, (2) child at potential risk, and (3) non-offending caretaker. The ROSAC is a useful guide for gathering case information, identifying relevant risk factors, making risk of harm assessments, and formulating case plans. This workshop will be divided into two parts. First, we will briefly review the theoretical and research basis for the SPJ approach and the checklist. Second, we will use the majority of the workshop to illustrate and practice how to score and use the instrument for risk determination and safety.

NO MÁS: Study: Reaching the Latina Community (English)
TRACK: SEXUAL ASSAULT & DOMESTIC VIOLENCE | LOS FELIZ

This one-hour workshop will concentrate on the national No Más study and the subsequent campaign that will be announced during National Hispanic Heritage Month on October 2015. The “NO MÁS Study: Domestic Violence and Sexual Assault in the U.S. Latin@ Community,” commissioned by the Avon Foundation for Women for Casa de Esperanza: National Latin@ Network and NO MORE and conducted by Lake Research Partners, uncovers what Latin@s perceive as the top barriers preventing survivors from seeking help and the steps Latin@s men and women are already taking to address these urgent issues. This workshop will review the results of the study as well as reveal some of the specific ideas and materials for the campaign. Participants will have the opportunity to share their thoughts and offer feedback about the campaign.

Pierre R. Berastain, Communications and Marketing Coordinator, Casa de Esperanza: National Latin@ Network

How Parents Can Support Campus Sexual Violence Survivors
TRACK: CAMPUS COMMUNITIES | SANTA BARBARA B

This is a critical conversation workshop led by two people who are a survivor and her mother. The workshop will address some common dynamics between parents and survivors who disclose their assault, and discuss ways that parents can be most helpful to survivors, both emotionally and, when applicable, in terms of seeking justice or holding their institutions/campuses accountable.

Kamilah Willingham, Program and Outreach Director, California Women’s Law Center

What Do I Do With All This Text? Skill-Building to Demystify Qualitative Analysis

TRACK: PREVENTION | SANTA BARBARA B

In this workshop participants will learn and practice three techniques they can use to analyze and interpret open-ended or qualitative data. These techniques include a general coding process and two methods which quantify or add numerical value to responses. If you’re looking for what to do with all that text beyond pulling out a juicy quote you’ll be in the right place! This skill-building workshop is intended for participants with limited or no experience in qualitative analysis.

Not Another Training In a Box: Supporting Community-Based Primary Prevention Strategies

TRACK: PREVENTION | BEAUDRY B

This interactive session will explore successes and challenges in implementing community-based primary prevention strategies. We will review common barriers to innovative work and share lessons learned from current efforts of the Maine, Missouri, and Washington State coalitions to build capacity and support community-based prevention programming. Through facilitated conversation and peer learning, participants will engage in dialogue regarding how to develop effective strategies within their own communities and define success for this model of prevention.

Destie Hohman Sprague, Program Director, Maine Coalition Against Sexual Assault

Kat Monusky, Prevention Program Coordinator, Washington Coalition of Sexual Assault Programs

Sexual Violence Prevention at College and Universities Serving Primarily Working Class Students

TRACK: PREVENTION & CAMPUS COMMUNITIES | SANTA ANITA C

At colleges and universities serving working class students and students of color, providers should consider class and culture differences when creating and implementing counseling services, programs, and events, since class and culture affect how victims respond to sexual and relationship violence. Alternative healing modalities work well with working class and communities of color. Analyses of class, race, and other social oppressions embedded in services, programs, and events strengthen healing for all students but especially for students targeted by these oppressions.

What the Tech? Current Issues in Cyber Crime and Online Exploitation
TRACK: INTERVENTION & ADVOCACY | SAN GABRIEL C
What the Tech? Current issues in Cyber Crime and Online Exploitation is an interactive, evidence based workshop geared toward parents, educators, law enforcement, social workers or anyone who interacts with children and teens who use technology. This interactive and dynamic workshop covers a wide variety of timely topics including Internet predators, social networking sites, digital reputation, geotagging, malware, sexting, cyber bullying, sextortion, cyberstalking, revenge porn, technology facilitated crimes, new apps and emerging issues of human sex trafficking using digital technology.
Tracy Webb, Deputy City Attorney - Counsel on Child Abuse, Los Angeles City Attorney

Sexual Violence in Later Life: You Can Make a Difference!
TRACK: INTERVENTION & ADVOCACY | SAN GABRIEL A
This workshop will use case scenarios and a combination of interactive exercises, video and lecture to enhance participants understanding of the dynamics of sexual abuse in later life. The workshop will explore how historical, generational, cultural, and spiritual values impact older victims of abuse and examine how ageism may impact our work with older survivors. Finally, participants will discuss the frameworks for approaching cases and identify methods for responding collaboratively to provide comprehensive services to older survivors of sexual violence.
Ann Turner, Elder Victim Services and Advocacy Coordinator, National Clearinghouse on Abuse in Later Life (NCALL)

Helping Victims of Sexual Harassment and Violence in the Workplace: How Do You Prove It? What Are the Remedies? What Is Your Role? What's the Effect of Immigration Status? What's the Employer's Duty?
TRACK: LAW AND POLICY | SAN GABRIEL B
Sexual harassment and assault in the workplace are major problems. This workshop will train advocates on the federal laws prohibiting sexual harassment, the critical evidence (including testimony and observations of advocates) to document abuse, and how to help victims obtain money and other remedies. The workshop will discuss the steps employers should take to prevent, stop and correct harassment, and what common mistakes employers make. The EEOC investigates these claims and files lawsuits for victims. The EEOC has recovered millions of dollars for victims of sexual assault. (See Frontline/PBS/Univision documentary, “Rape in the Fields”)

Innovative Practices and Lessons Learned: Creating a Community Legal Partnership for Teen and Youth Survivors of Sexual Assault
TRACK: LAW AND POLICY | SANTA ANITA B
Civil attorneys can support young survivors of sexual assault by providing a myriad of legal services to help mitigate specific harms in the wake of an assault. This session focuses on identifying the ways that civil legal services attorneys can assist teen and youth survivors with a specific focus on the development of a community legal partnership between the Los Angeles Center for Law and Justice and the YWCA of Greater Los Angeles.
Angela McNair Turner, Staff Attorney, Los Angeles Center for Law and Justice
Sharon Shelton, Vice President of Empowerment Services, YWCA of Greater Los Angeles
Healing Our Heroes: Lessons Learned in Developing New Programs to Serve Military Survivors of Sexual Assault

TRACK: ENDING SEXUAL VIOLENCE IN THE MILITARY | BEAUDRY A

This session is a collaborative effort between two rape crisis centers who instituted new programming in response to the growing need to better serve women in our military who experienced sexual assault. Each center will share lessons learned—successes, barriers and helpful tips for civilian agencies looking to build new programming or strengthen services for military clients.

Conducting Sexual Abuser Risk of Sexual Harm to Children Assessments (Part 2)

TRACK: PARTNERING TO IMPROVE SEX OFFENDER MANAGEMENT | LOS FELIZ

Mental health professionals, and child protective services professionals are commonly asked to assess the risk a sex offender poses to a particular child or children and under what circumstances, if any, the offender might safely be allowed contact with the child or children. This workshop will review a Structured Professional Judgment (SPJ) approach for conducting these types of risk of harm assessments. The Risk of Sexual Abuse of Children-30 checklist (ROSAC-30) is composed of 30 items that are empirically or theoretically linked to risk of sexual harm to children. Items are scored on a 3-point scale. Checklist items are grouped into three categories, namely, considerations concerning the (1) offender, (2) child at potential risk, and (3) non-offending caretaker. The ROSAC is a useful guide for gathering case information, identifying relevant risk factors, making risk of harm assessments, and formulating case plans. This workshop will be divided into two parts. First, we will briefly review the theoretical and research basis for the SPJ approach and the checklist. Second, we will use the majority of the workshop to illustrate and practice how to score and use the instrument for risk determination and safety.

<td>Move to End Violence recognizes that social justice work can be highly conceptual, but in order to make the changes we seek, we must move beyond thinking about change and move towards embodying change. Through breathing and physical practice, participants will learn that change is a state of being; one that consists of moving in time and space. We will explore the ways we move both individually and collectively. Participants will walk away with practical lessons to increase their body awareness that are adaptable in their daily life/work. This is a practice accessible to all; no prior experience necessary.</td>

¿Qué hago con todo este texto? Construyendo habilidades para desmitificar el análisis cualitativo / What Do I Do With All This Text? Skill-Building to Demystify Qualitative Analysis (Español)
TRACK: PREVENTION | LOS FELIZ
En este taller los participantes van a aprender y practicar tres técnicas que pueden usar para analizar e interpretar datos abiertos o cualitativos. Las técnicas incluyen un proceso general y dos métodos para agregar valor numeral a las respuestas. Si buscas qué hacer con todo este texto, mas allá de sacar una cotización jugosa, estás en el lugar correcto. El taller se dirige a participantes con poca o ninguna experiencia en el análisis cualitativo.

Empirically-Informed Activism: Understanding the Science of the Mind to Fight Sexual Violence on College Campuses
TRACK: PREVENTION & CAMPUS COMMUNITIES | SANTA ANITA C
This interactive lecture and discussion will synthesize psychological research to help participants understand and effectively combat rape culture on college campuses from an additional theoretical framework. Topics to be discussed will include, but are not limited to, the cognitive underpinnings of victim-blaming tendencies, social factors that can facilitate or inhibit bystander intervention, and the neural bases of sexual objectification. Participants will be highly encouraged to share their knowledge on their own campuses.
Leslie Berntsen, Ph.D. Student, University of Southern California

Interfacing with Campus Sexual Assault Victims
TRACK: CAMPUS COMMUNITIES | SAN GABRIEL A
This presentation will explore what happens when a sexual assault victim makes a report to his/her college. We will discuss a sexual assault victim’s rights, the administrative procedures involved in on-campus reporting, and the remedies available to victims. We will also discuss available remedies outside of the educational setting and how those systems interact and impact one another.
Sadaf Hane, Victim Rights Legal Services Staff Attorney, Center for Community Solutions
Gail Mendez, Litigation Manager, Center for Community Solutions

Restoring Internal Safety: An Evidence-Based Embodied Movement Practice for Survivors
TRACK: INTERVENTION & ADVOCACY | SAN GABRIEL B
Trauma Release Exercises (TRE®) is an evidence-based integrated somatic mindfulness and movement practice that provides post-traumatic symptom relief through the release of deep trauma-related tension patterns. In this interactive workshop, we will examine the holistic experience of trauma from a neuro-psycho-biological and relational basis, followed by an experiential exploration of the TRE® movement sequence and small group discussion. Guidance will be provided on integrating TRE® into established programs serving sexual assault survivors in community, educational, and organizational settings.

Supporting Parents to Promote Sexual Health and Safety at Home and in the Community
TRACK: PREVENTING CHILD SEXUAL ABUSE | BEAUDRY A
Parents play a critical role in promoting sexual health and safety in their home and throughout a community. To fulfill this role, parents and caregivers need basic knowledge of critical concepts around human sexuality and psychosexual development, information they were unlikely to receive in school in the 1980’s and 1990’s. This workshop will provide advocates for sexual health and safety with resources they can incorporate into their work with families and communities.

Reducing Barriers to Safety and Recovery by Promoting Survivor Economic Security

TRACK: LAW AND POLICY | SANTA BARBARA C

Sexual assault has devastating, lifelong economic impacts on survivors, including both short- and long-term costs from health care, lost wages and justice system costs. These economic consequences often keep survivors from reporting a crime, accessing justice or achieving resiliency through economic security. This session will outline the numerous opportunities that exist for service providers, law enforcement and prosecutors, and policymakers to respond to the economic needs and barriers facing survivors in order to better ensure their safety and recovery.

Malore Dusenbery, Economic Security for Survivors Project Associate Director, Wider Opportunities for Women

Missing Serious Themes (MST): Expanding the Frame of MST for the Welfare of Our Veterans, Their Families, and Communities

TRACK: ENDING SEXUAL VIOLENCE IN THE MILITARY | SAN GABRIEL C

Although the destructive effects of MST must be addressed, this session will discuss how serious themes regarding overall needs for health access, family/child caregiver support, employment, and housing issues are often missed in discussions about MST. Findings from focus groups and in-depth and longitudinal interviews with 63 women veterans suggests that a change in focus, setting, context, and types of services provided to women who experienced MST could significantly facilitate their own health and healing, as well as their children and families.

Beyond Trauma, Toward Resiliency: Theory and Practice

TRACK: INTERVENTION & ADVOCACY | SAN GABRIEL B

POV and CCS collaborate to explore the challenge of moving clients past trauma and toward resiliency. Decades of “talk therapy” leave us wishing for effective, accessible strategies to promote healing and resilience. Our partnership has pushed us to move beyond familiar cultural-socio-political frameworks, borrow concepts from other fields (neurobiology, disaster response, spiritual practice), and incorporate new healing modalities into practice. This workshop presents theory and practice experienced in our efforts to reform and democratize healing for survivors of sexual assault.

What Communities Have to Say: Using Focus Groups for SVP Planning
TRACK: PREVENTION  |  SANTA ANITA C
It is challenging for advocates and prevention educators to motivate communities to conceptualize primary prevention strategies that will work in particular communities. This workshop will provide participants with an approach to engaging priority populations in effective sexual violence prevention. Building on experience conducting 11 focus groups to inform the New Mexico statewide strategic plan, participants will identify priority populations, and presenters will facilitate focus group discussion activities to elicit unique perspectives on sexual violence.

Coaching Boys Into Men in the Iron City: Adapting Prevention Strategy to Local Context
(SANTA ANITA A)
TRACK: PREVENTION  |  SANTA ANITA A
Coaching Boys Into Men has received national attention as a promising practice in the prevention of sexual violence. Since the strategy is designed to be implemented by school-based athletic coaches, how can your organization support this work? We have practice-based evidence! Pittsburgh Action Against Rape’s CBIM educator — who is also a high school basketball coach — and an independent evaluator will co-facilitate this session to share lessons they’ve learned while incorporating innovative and evaluative thinking into prevention work.

Building Resiliency in Kids: Creating Trauma-Informed Spaces
TRACK: INTERVENTION & ADVOCACY | SAN GABRIEL A

Most of our society’s children are exposed to violence in their daily lives. Creating safe and supportive spaces can help ensure all children have opportunities to learn, grow, and thrive. This workshop reviews strategies for developing trauma-informed spaces for children, highlighting the Crittenton Children’s Center’s Head Start, Trauma Smart approach, the NSVRC’s One Caring Adult course, and the NRCDV’s Honor Our Voices and Change a Life projects. Professionals from all backgrounds will identify opportunities to strengthen their own trauma-informed approaches.

Bringing the Disability Rights and Anti-Sexual Violence Movements Together: Collaborations Between Rape Crisis Centers and Disability Advocacy Organizations to Improve Access for Survivors With Disabilities
TRACK: INTERVENTION & ADVOCACY | SAN GABRIEL C

The disability rights movement and the anti-sexual violence movement are both part of the history of U.S. social justice movements of the 60’s and early 70’s, but have rarely been strong collaborators. People with disabilities are more likely to experience sexual violence than people without disabilities, so the consequences of not collaborating are significant for survivors with disabilities and prevention efforts focused on disability communities. In this session, lessons learned will be shared from an abuse prevention program embedded in a disability organization, and a large rape crisis center engaged in a sustained collaboration with disability advocacy and access groups. This session will examine the histories of the rape crisis and disability service movements to identify ways in which the frameworks and underlying assumptions of the two movements converge and diverge. It will also offer practical strategies for sexual assault organizations to effectively partner with their local disability communities.

Informed Consent: What Does It Really Mean for Sexual Assault Victims?
TRACK: LAW AND POLICY | BEAUDRY B

It is a complicated process to provide sexual assault victims with the necessary information to enable them to give informed consent to a medical forensic exam. There are many complex medical and legal issues victims must consider in order to really provide informed consent. This interactive session, geared for victim advocates and medical personnel, will address the complicated medical and legal factors involved in explaining the medical forensic exam and obtaining informed consent for the procedures.

Standing Up in a Crooked Room: Techniques to Help Empower Young Black Women and Girls through Popular Culture
TRACK: PREVENTION | LOS FELIZ

Adolescents, in particular young women of color (YWOC), are bombarded with varying images of relationships, sexual expression and violence via lyrics, media and images. In our experience as youth workers and educators, we recognize the pivotal role that popular culture plays in how YWOC examine, negotiate and re-evaluate their relationships with themselves, others, and the world around them. Our interactive workshop focuses on building capacity among adult-allies via language and media-literacy and its translation for gender-based violence prevention.

Shared Risk and Protection: From Violence and Beyond

TRACK: PREVENTION | SAN GABRIEL B

This session will discuss the risk and protective factors that are shared between sexual violence and other public health/social justice issues. The session will highlight innovative strategies that local agencies can use to mobilize their communities to jointly address shared risks and protections. Online tools for such mobilization created by coalitions in North Carolina and Indiana will be explored, and participants will learn how they can become involved in this national partnership to promote a shared risk/protection approach.

Thinking Outside of the Box: Mobilizing the 9 Principles of Prevention on Campus

TRACK: PREVENTION | SANTA BARBARA B

This workshop will provide a space for preventionists to discuss their successes and challenges surrounding campus sexual violence prevention in the context of the national landscape. Facilitators will engage participants in small group activities/discussions that will help them to translate the Principles of Prevention into actionable campus-based strategies and collaborations. A critical thinking tool will be provided, based on the Principles of Prevention which preventionists can apply in their collaborations with campuses in developing effective prevention strategies. Action planning tools will be provided to help participants apply the discussion in their practices.

Developing Bystander Training for Bars Around College Campuses: Lessons Learned from the Arizona Safer Bars Alliance

TRACK: PREVENTION & CAMPUS COMMUNITIES | SANTA ANITA C

The Arizona Safer Bars Alliance (ASBA) is a statewide initiative to train bar staff to recognize and safely respond to perpetration of sexually-aggressive behavior by bar patrons. Arizona has three major state universities, and many colleges. This presentation will focus on how our program was developed using the Theory of Planned Behavior, successes and challenges along the way, and why bar staff training can be an effective, innovative approach for college campus communities.

Higher Education: Dispelling Myths to More EffectivelyProsecute Campus Rape

TRACK: LAW AND POLICY | PALO VERDES

Non-stranger rapists rely on premeditated tactics and nontraditional weapons and are adept at creating, identifying, and manipulating perceived vulnerabilities in their victims. These offenders also benefit from common misconceptions and false expectations of offenders that can result in failure to identify non-stranger rapists who do not meet these expectations. To more effectively identify, investigate, and prosecute non-stranger rapists on campus, prosecutors must overcome common myths and misconceptions about sexual violence, especially if judges and juries believe them.

Family Reunification after Child Sexual Abuse: A Road Map for Advocates

TRACK: INTERVENTION & ADVOCACY  |  SANTA ANITA B

Few topics stir such intense emotional reactions as the prospect of reintegrating adults, adolescents, and children who have sexually abused back into their families and communities. Yet, the complicated realities of criminal justice, family law, and family dynamics mean that advocates and service providers across disciplines are frequently called upon to help mediate that process with few guidelines. This interactive workshop will present participants with tools, strategies, and insights to help enhance safety, cooperation, and positive outcomes for all involved.

A Healthy Dose of Privacy: Improving Survivors’ Access to Confidential Health Services

TRACK: LAW AND POLICY  |  SANTA ANITA A

A wide array of privacy issues impact health care providers and other professionals who assist survivors in the aftermath of sexual assault. This session will address some of the most complex privacy topics, including patient consent to release of medical records and medical forensic exam documentation; coordination and communication between SANEs and advocates; mandatory reporting; and law enforcement access to patients and their information. Populations with specialized privacy concerns—including minors, incarcerated survivors, and service members—also will be addressed.

Rape and Roll Call: How the Culture of the Military Can Enhance or Inhibit Trauma Symptoms Following a Sexual Trauma, and How to Treat the Attachment Trauma from a Neurobiological Lens

TRACK: ENDING SEXUAL VIOLENCE IN THE MILITARY  |  BEAUDRY A

This presentation will contrast the differences between civilian and military sexual assault, and argue that because of the nature of the military contract, the post-trauma symptomology can be heightened when compared to a civilian assault. Using Judith Herman’s (1992) trauma concepts of captivity, safety, mourning, and reconnection, Dr. Zaleski will integrate modern day attachment theory and neurobiology to help the audience understand how to treat the whole person, not just the trauma memory, in the treatment room.

Navigando el proceso administrativo para una queja por el acoso sexual en el trabajo /
Navigating the Administrative Process to Bring a Workplace Sexual Violence Complaint (Español)

TRACK: INTERVENTION & ADVOCACY | SAN BERNARDINO

La violencia sexual en el lugar del trabajo es un problema común para trabajadores en los Estados Unidos, especialmente los trabajadores vulnerables como campesin@s u otr@s trabajadores inmigrantes. Cualquier individuo puede someter una queja formal por el acoso sexual con la agenda administrativa que se llama el EEOC o con agencias estatales, cuando existen leyes estatales contra la discriminación en el trabajo y el acoso sexual. Además, los individuos pueden iniciar una investigación criminal y/o tomar otras acciones civiles. ¿Has pensado en la necesidad de aprender cómo someter una queja al EEOC? ¿Has contemplado la posibilidad de apoyar a una víctima o sobreviviente en el proceso administrativo del EEOC? Esta sesión provee información básica sobre cómo preparar una queja y los pasos que siguen durante el proceso administrativo. Participantes tendrán la oportunidad de escribir una queja durante esta sesión interactiva.

Self-Care as a Revolutionary Act

TRACK: LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT | BEAUDRY B

Women are socialized to serve and to be available to everyone. When we use up our emotional resources pouring into everyone except ourselves - we are shamed as angry, chastised for being unhealthy and/or overweight and accused of not trusting God enough if we are depressed. This workshop encourages rejection of oppressive larger cultural values that blunt our willingness to fully claim self-care as a priority, and identifies some tools that can be used in a daily self-care plan.

Learn about the Advocacy Learning Center, an 18-month experiential course for advocacy programs. It offers a rare opportunity for advocates to come together, connect, and learn from each other. The ALC is designed for independent, community-based advocacy organizations, tribal advocacy programs, campus advocacy programs and state, tribal and national coalition groups funded by the federal Office on Violence Against Women. Programs apply, are selected, and participate as a team of front-line advocates, crisis counselors and directors/managers.

Founded in 1980, the California Coalition Against Sexual Assault is the only statewide organization whose sole purpose is to promote public policy, advocacy, training and technical assistance on the issue of sexual assault. Our primary members are California’s rape crisis centers and rape prevention programs. We also have affiliates that include organizations, businesses, and individuals committed to our mission and our vision of the elimination of sexual violence.

Catharsis Productions offers engaging and dynamic educational programming to help campuses and organizations decrease sexual violence in their communities. Our programs, offered both online and in-person, help combat victim blaming, rape myths, and encourage bystander intervention. In addition, our “Force of Awesome Institute” is designed to train educators in how to better deliver these messages effectively within their own communities.

The Child Abduction Training Project, a project of the Center for Innovation and Resources (CIR), provides education and resources which help service providers in their efforts to prevent, locate, and reunify abducted children. The Project works directly with the California Child Abduction Task Force, which consists of professionals from multiple disciplines who are experts in the field of child abduction and recovery. The Project offers a two-day multidisciplinary intervention and resource training for professionals, several one-day trainings on advanced topics, and provides resources to law enforcement and other professionals that enhance a holistic approach to timely, effective, and coordinated child abduction recoveries and reunifications.
Cold Justice: Sex Crimes – is a documentary TV Series currently airing on TNT (on Friday nights), where a team of experienced prosecutors and sex crimes investigators assist local law enforcement around the country with their unsolved sexual assault cases. The team includes veteran prosecutor Casey Garrett, a former District Court Felony Chief Prosecutor, for Harris County, TX in Houston, who successfully prosecuted hundreds of felony cases including numerous sexual assaults; former Prosecutor and DNA expert Alicia O’Neill, also formerly with the Harris County DA’s office where she was a felony chief in their forensics review section and reexamined 100’s of sexual assault cases; Detective Jesse Alvarado - 31 years with the Los Angeles Police Department, where he’s investigated over 4500 sexual assault cases; retired SVU Detective Tom McDevitt — 35 years with the Philadelphia Police Department, where he investigated over 10,000 sexual assault cases; and others. Cold Justice: Sex Crimes also provides additional resources to assist with the investigations, including – but not limited to — costs for forensic testing (grant money for DNA, including untested rape kits, etc.), travel costs, expert witnesses etc. The goals of this program is to showcase the hard work of the investigators from agencies across the nation, assist them in providing a legal resolution for the victim, help remove the stigma associated with sexual assault - and subsequently encourage an increase in reporting of sexual assaults.

If you or your department has any cases that you think might benefit from Cold Justice: Sex Crimes’ resources, you can email them atinfo@coldjusticesexcrimes.com. Please include a brief synopsis of the case, along with the name and contact information of the investigator currently handling it (and please know Cold Justice: Sex Crimes can only review cases that are submitted to them directly by LAW ENFORCEMENT).

From US Military installations throughout the world to college campuses to being featured on Dateline NBC’s “My Kid Would Never Do That” this past summer, Mike Domitrz and The DATE SAFE Project has been providing transformational trainings, keynotes, and resources for over 2 decades. By engaging audiences of all ages and relationship status (single and married), Mike inspires audiences while also revealing specific how-to skill sets for each person to the right actions going forward: asking first, bystander intervention, identifying societal influences, and supporting survivors. Journeyworks Publishing is a respected national publisher of sexual assault and domestic violence resources. For over twenty years Journeyworks has been supporting sexual assault and domestic violence programs across the country through partnerships with public health departments, work place environments, high schools, colleges and universities, law enforcement, city and state and youth organizations to stop sexual violence and sexual abuse. Journeyworks publishes hundreds of brochures, posters and other materials that sends strong messages that sexual abuse is not okay. It is wrong. Our materials helps victims find support and resources they need. Let Journeyworks help and support you in your efforts to stop sexual abuse. Please visit our website at www.journeyworks.com

The National Alliance to End Sexual Violence is the voice in Washington for state coalitions and local programs working to end sexual violence and support survivors. NAESV educates the policy community about federal laws, legislation and appropriations impacting the fight to end sexual violence. Its team of experts and advocates, donating time away from their state and local groups, publish written analysis, track legislation, provide media interviews, and advise members of Congress and the executive branch.

The National Sexual Violence Resource Center identifies sexual violence as a public health, social justice, and human rights issue and collaborates with experts in the field using a variety of strategies to create a culture free of sexual violence. The NSVRC works to address the causes and impact of sexual violence through collaboration, prevention and sharing research based resources. Stop by our booth for technical assistance and free resources.

NO MORE is a unifying symbol and campaign to raise public awareness and engage bystanders around ending domestic violence and sexual assault. Launched by a coalition of leading advocacy groups, service providers, the U.S. Department of Justice and major corporations, NO MORE is supported by hundreds of national and local groups and by thousands of individuals, organizations, universities, and communities who are using its signature blue symbol to increase visibility for domestic violence and sexual assault. NO MORE amplifies the power of the domestic violence and sexual assault movement to drive awareness and break down the barriers of stigma, silence and shame that keep people from talking about these issues and taking action to prevent them.
Only With Consent is a national 501(c)3 nonprofit organization focused on stopping sexual violence through consent and health education. We exist to provide resources to young people so that they can make healthy choices. By upsetting rape culture, and generating consent culture, we will help create a safe space for people across the world.

The Orange County Human Trafficking Task Force (OCHTTF) was established in 2004 and is a collaboration of law enforcement, victim service providers, non-profit organizations, faith-based organizations, government entities and the community. The OCHTTF’s mission is to work together by taking a multidisciplinary approach toward the common goal of combating human trafficking and related crimes in Orange County.

The mission of OVC is to enhance the Nation's capacity to assist crime victims and to provide leadership in changing attitudes, policies, and practices to promote justice and healing for all victims.

Founded in 1975, Pennsylvania Coalition Against Rape advocates for the rights and needs of sexual assault victims and works to end sexual violence. PCAR partners with a network of rape crisis programs to bring help, hope and healing around issues of sexual violence to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. PCAR assures that communities have access to quality victim services and prevention education by providing funding, training, materials and assistance to rape crisis programs and resources and training on sexual assault-related issues to professionals across the Commonwealth. PCAR works with the media and promotes public policies that provide protections and services to victims of sexual violence, holds offenders accountable and enhances community safety. V2 Shield is a complete state of the art digital interview room recording management system designed with advanced features specific for police interrogations. The system provides for recording and long term storage of multiple simultaneous interviews and incorporates built in tamper protection watermark technology.
The Bristlecone Project celebrates the courage and resilience of male survivors of abuse and assault. It presents a mosaic of portraits and personal stories that portray the reality and hope of men who suffered sexual abuse and who are willing to put their names, their faces and their stories in full public view. In so doing, the men of the Bristlecone Project defy the shame and stigma that has for so long shadowed male survivors of sexual violence. They also open a door for other survivors to cast off the shame and stigma, to break out of their isolation, and to find connection with fellow survivors and their communities.

What are @Replies?
An @reply is a public message sent from one person to another, distinguished from normal updates by the @username prefix. Reply publicly to any update on Twitter by using the @username format. If your account is private, users who are not following you will not see your @replies or mentions.

What does RT, or retweet, mean?
RT is short for retweet, and indicates a re-posting of someone else’s tweet. People add RT somewhere in a tweet to indicate that part of their tweet includes something they’re re-posting from another person’s tweet, sometimes with a comment of their own.

What does #, or a Hashtag, mean?
A Hash Tag is simply a way for people to search for tweets that have a common topic. For example, if you search #sexualassault (or #SexualAssault, because it’s not case-sensitive), you’ll get a list of tweets related to this topic.
California is the first state in the nation to establish a specialized NO MORE license plate to fund local programs in the fight against domestic violence and sexual assault.

Assemblymember Jimmy Gomez (D-Los Angeles) authored and successfully passed Assembly Bill 2321. With its passage, AB 2321 created the first-in-the-nation California Says NO MORE license plate and established a domestic violence and sexual assault prevention fund, which will be financed through license plate purchases, to support domestic violence and sexual assault awareness and prevention efforts throughout the state.

The California Says NO MORE license plate needs 7,500 orders to begin production. We need everyone’s help to meet the goal. Be sure to purchase your license plate today and tell your friends and family!

Now it's up to you to make this historic program a success! Here's how:

1. Order your California Says NO MORE license plate today! Visit www.NomorePlate.org
2. Share this flyer and the website with your friends and family.
3. Share our website on social media and use the hashtag #NoMorePlate
